

ANTI-HEARST LEAGUE FAVORS FUCHS-McLEAN FACTION

The candidacy of Joseph Fuchs and William H. McLean for president and vice-president of the Bricklayers' and Stonemasons' Union was endorsed by the Anti-Hearst Trades Union League last night.

The following resolution protesting the assault on McLean last Sunday and his blacklisting by the National Fireproof Co. was passed:

"Whereas, Labor conditions in Chicago are drifting into the despotic hands of unscrupulous labor leaders; and

"Whereas, Members of organized labor, who oppose the methods used by these leaders are blacklisted and slugged; and

"Whereas, Said labor leaders have attempted to intimidate the rank and file; therefore be it

"Resolved, That we members of the Anti-Hearst Trades Union League in meeting assembled condemn the unfair methods in vogue in labor union politics in Chicago; and be it further

"Resolved, That we voice our indignation at the unwarranted attack and blacklisting of one of our members, William H. McLean; and be it still further

"Resolved, That we ask all members of organized labor who desire a square deal and are willing to fight for it, to join our ranks irrespective of trade, to put their shoulder to the wheel and fight for better, cleaner and more peaceful conditions in our Chicago labor unions."

We recommend that this resolution be entered on the books of the Anti-Hearst Trades Union League and that copies be sent to The Day Book and all other papers fair to organized labor.

Fuchs and McLean are running in opposition to the ticket headed by Pete Shaughnessy.

ANDY WON'T GIVE UP CROWN WITHOUT A FIGHT

Congressman A. J. Sabath, who is busy stealing Andy Lawrence's thunder as boss of the H.-H. Democrats, has finally admitted that he was connected with the Chicago Reduction Co., which recently tried to hold up the city in the garbage mess.

But Sabath says he is no longer connected with the company in any capacity and wants $7,000 that he claims is coming to him for services rendered to the garbage bandits.

Incidentally the Examiner takes a rap at him in printing the story, showing that Andy doesn't intend to pass on the crown without a struggle.

"Sabath," says the Examiner, "admits the obvious fact that the negotiations to sell the plant failed. He says it was because constant attack had made the owners of the reduction company 'bull-headed' and not because his own work and influence was not potent."

It is rather amusing to see the Examiner advertising the fact that Sabath worked and used influence to palm the garbage plant off on the city at the price the company asked. Just a short time ago you would have gotten the impression that Sabath was a real representative of the people and not a political boss, who used his office power for his own personal gain, if you read the Examiner.

The Examiner further says, "The story in circulation had been that the congressman had a contract by the terms of which he was to use his good offices to secure the sale of the plant to the city and in return to receive $10,000, $3,000 of which has been paid."

Sabath denies he had a contract, saying that he hasn't been with the company for four months.

Meanwhile Sabath still wants brother Joe on the county bench instead of Andy's Judge Owens.
